

Emily wants to go outside and play but it is raining.

But now Emily is tired of playing the same song.

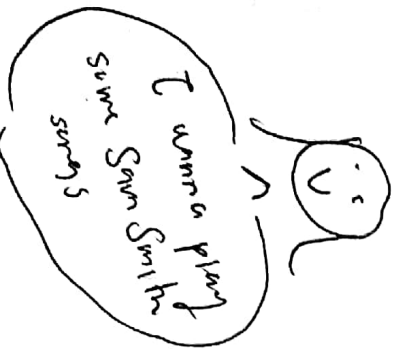

Emily suddenly remembers that her brother had installed a new game on the computer.

Emily is happy to be able to be active indoors.

Emily is happy again after finding out she can play the game with any song she inputs.

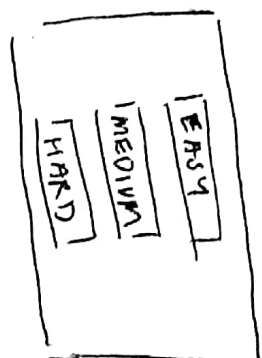

Soon Emily is bored

because the game is too easy.

Emily is happy again because she finds out you can change the difficulty level.

Even though Emily couldn't go outside because of the rain, it was a great and fun day.
